London hospitality, gaming and leisure law firm Crefovi represents significant participants in market-defining transactions in the hospitality, gaming and leisure sectors.

Hospitality, gaming and leisure law firm Crefovi: dedicated to serving industry leaders

Ours was one of the first law firms to develop a dedicated global hospitality and leisure group. With years of experience and a proven track record in the sector, we help investors, developers, owners and operators with their hospitality and leisure opportunities.

London hospitality, gaming and leisure law firm Crefovi advises some of the world's largest hotel and casino operations by assisting them in growth from local to global entities. Hospitality, gaming and leisure law firm Crefovi represents many of the premier hospitality and gaming companies in market-setting mergers, acquisitions and spin-offs.

We also represent online gaming and gambling establishments, hospitality and catering operations such as conference locations, and organisers and developers of venues for major sporting events, including Formula One races.

To provide results-oriented representation for clients in the hospitality and leisure sectors, Crefovi's Hospitality, Gaming & Leisure Industry Group coordinates with other sector teams and disciplines to craft legal solutions to business and operation objectives.

As markets expand in the gaming sector, the lawyers of hospitality, gaming and leisure law firm Crefovi are advising companies and their financial advisors and providers with respect to properties and operations in Europe, as well as the United States, Asia and the Middle East. These projects include online gaming transactions, traditional gaming properties and resorts, racetracks and casinos.
