London media and entertainment law firm Crefovi is taking an increasingly targeted approach to developing and strengthening its films and motion pictures practice. Crefovi's expertise in advising clients on motion picture and films matters, such as film finance, production agreements and day-to-day management of the legal aspects of a film production, has also taken a new turn earlier this year when it became admitted to the panel of arbitrators and mediators of WIPO Films, Media and Entertainment section of the Arbitration and Mediation Center. ## We will be there!

Its presence at the Cannes Film Festival is paramount, in order to catch up with Crefovi's clients, network with prospects, other professionals working for the film industry and the organisers of the festival. Indeed, the Cannes Film Festival is – by far – the most prestigious annual motion pictures and films tradeshow in the world. It has remained faithful to its founding purpose: to draw attention to and raise the profile of films with the aim of contributing towards the development of cinema, boosting the film industry worldwide and celebrating cinema at an international level. Top talent, management and professionals from the film industry all congregate in Cannes, every year, to talk shop and have fun.

Crefovi at 2015 Cannes Film Festival

Annabelle Gauberti, founding partner of Crefovi, will be attending the Cannes Film Festival and its events. We have long seen the Cannes Film Festival as one of the key international events in the film industry calendar so it's a real privilege to be accredited to attend this. As well as talks, discussions, workshops and ample networking opportunities at the Film Market, the Cannes Film Festival also has an interesting line up of features films and short films to showcase. With a diverse mix of genres we are particularly looking forward to discovering Macbeth, with Michael Fassbender and Marion Cotillard, and Matthew McConaughey and Naomi Watts in Gus Van Sant's The Sea of Trees. If this all sounds like too good an opportunity to miss, you can book your accreditation and see the full official selection of the Cannes Film Festival, on the Festival de Cannes website. One of the USPs of the Cannes Film Festival events is the focus on creating a real dialogue between attendees and speakers, so if you happen to attend the discussion Annabelle is participating in please don't hesitate to ask her a question! You can also catch her afterwards if you have anything specific you would like to discuss. See you there!
