

Tax | London tax law firm

by Crefovi - Sat, Aug 04, 2012

<https://crefovi.com/practices/tax/>

Clients turn to London tax law firm Crefovi, and its team of tax lawyers, to create innovative structures and solve complex tax issues arising from transactions, controversies and general business operations.

Innovative tax advice

London tax law firm Crefovi works with tax authorities globally, while collaborating across offices and disciplines to ensure consistent results for clients regardless of their location.

Crefovi clients require a seamless, multi-jurisdictional tax advisory service, whether on a stand-alone basis or as an integral part of the full legal service offered by us.

That's why, with a strong team of tax specialists across Crefovi international network, we are able to offer both domestic and cross-border advice wherever our clients need it, whether they are art institutions, financial institutions, corporate entities, or funds.

The depth and breadth of our knowledge ensures that London tax law firm Crefovi is able to support its clients' business needs successfully and provide high quality, innovative tax solutions in the increasingly complex area of tax legislation and practice.

An integrated practice

London tax law firm Crefovi has a tax team which has considerable experience handling matters for a diverse client base, including multinational corporations, financial institutions, private equity funds, CAC 40 and Footsie 500 corporations and emerging companies. London tax law firm Crefovi, and its tax lawyers, practice in the following areas:

- Transactional tax
- International tax
- Tax controversy
- Tax-exempt organisations
- Benefits, compensation & employment

London tax law firm Crefovi provides additional value to its clients by organising seminars and publishing some proprietary research in relation to tax law and art law.

Your Name (required)

Your Email (required)

Subject

Your Message

PDF generated by Crefovi